

Gowrie Group Delivers 500 Pounds of Apples at Newport Boat Show

Westbrook, CT and Newport, RI. September, 2010. Gowrie Group, Connecticut and Rhode Island's largest and most prestigious independent insurance agency brought a fresh approach to the Newport Boat Show this year. The Gowrie team delivered 50 blue branded buckets, containing more than 500 pounds of apples in total, to their marine industry clients, prospects, and friends that were displaying boats or products at the show. The fresh apples the Gowrie team delivered came from Bishop's Orchards of Guilford, CT.

Also adding to Gowrie's elevated presence at the show was Dawn M. Speros', a 20-year veteran of the marine insurance industry and senior yacht specialist at Gowrie Group, presentation to the marine leaders at the Newport Boat Show Seminar Series. She portrayed the changing marine insurance landscape as one with hidden opportunities for boaters. She covered many themes including: opportunities in a down market, saving premium dollars through a variety of strategies, and how the Gulf Oil spill affects pricing here at home.
